SU at a glance

The resources of a University ...
6,000 students from 35 states and 33 foreign countries
34 undergraduate and 9 graduate programs
275 full-time faculty, 90 percent of tenure-track faculty have terminal degrees, including National Endowment for the Humanities scholars and Fulbright professors.
NCAA Division III Athletics, 9 men's, 10 women's intercollegiate teams; 22 intramural sports

... with small-school opportunities.
Approachable faculty (17:1 student/faculty ratio)
Honors program with dedicated faculty at the Bellavance Honors Center. Ten residence complexes including traditional, co-ed, suite and apartment styles.

The security of state support ...
2001-02 tuition, room, board and fees: $10,576 per year for Maryland residents; $16,032 per year out-of-state.
A library with over 800,000 volumes, periodicals, microforms and databases including word processing and computer labs. Access to collections throughout the country.

... with the benefits of private funding.
Altogether, SU awards nearly $1 million in academic scholarships each year. More than $24 million in private endowments supports some of those scholarships and provides for some of the finest educational programs.

In an ideal–and idyllic–location:
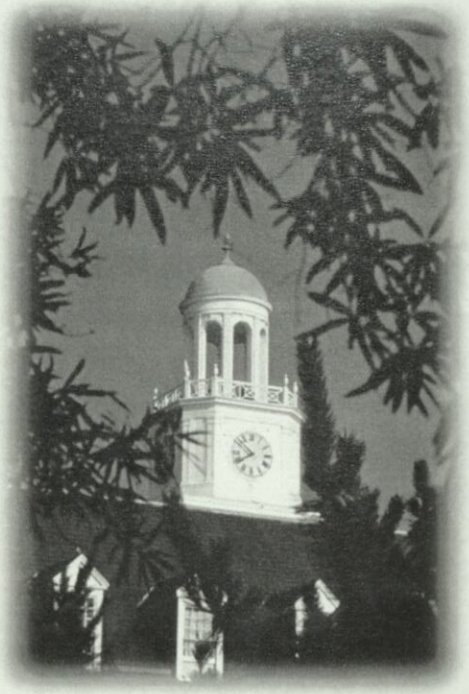
Salisbury, MD, is 30 miles west of the Atlantic Ocean and Ocean City, MD, and 20 miles east of the Chesapeake Bay; 2 hours from Baltimore, Washington, D.C. and Wilmington, DE. The campus is 2 1/2 hours from Norfolk, VA, and Philadelphia, PA, and 4 1/2 hours from New York.



Come see us–in person, or in cyberspace. We'd love to see your smiling face, but if you can't get here, check out our Web site.
We're at www.salisbury.edu.

SU's campus is in an attractive, residential neighborhood of stately homes on sculpted lawns, less than one-half mile from the banks of the Wicomico River. The campus includes 47 buildings on over 140 landscaped acres. Students walk from one end of campus to the other in about 5 minutes.

Head Coach Dr. Gerry DiBartolo

Led by Head Coach Gerry DiBartolo, Salisbury University registered its 10th straight winning season in 2001 by finishing with a 15-3-1 record. The Sea Gulls concluded the season with a nine-match unbeaten streak, including a 1-1 tie in four overtimes in the Capital Athletic Conference championship game. DiBartolo has piloted the Sea Gulls to two conference championships and two NCAA Tournament bids in the past three seasons.

Championships, playoffs and national rankings have become a staple with the Sea Gull program in recent seasons. The Sea Gulls were ranked among the national elite throughout most of the 2000 season, peaking as high as No. 8 in the nation and No. 1 in the South Region. SU also registered a new team record 12-game winning streak that year and established a new team record for goals in one season with 89.

The accomplishments of the 2000 season came on the heels of a memorable 1999 campaign in which the Sea Gulls finished with an 18-4-1 record and advanced to the national quarterfinals (final eight) of the NCAA Tournament. The Gulls established 12 new team and individual records that season while claiming their first Capital Athletic Conference championship and first NCAA South Region title. Salisbury also received its highest national ranking of 11th that season, since topped by the 2000 team.

The Sea Gulls have won 11 or more games each year since 1992. During that span, DiBartolo's teams have collected three conference championships and three postseason appearances. The Sea Gulls are the only conference team to have played in the Capital Athletic Conference's championship game for eight straight years.

DiBartolo, the 1999 and 2000 CAC Coach-of-the-Year as well as the NSCAA's 1999 South Region Coach-of-the-Year, completed his 20th season in 2001 with a 210-130-25 career mark and ranks as the all-time winningest coach in the program's 65-year history. He reached the 200-win career milestone on September 19 of the 2001 season with a 5-0 victory over Washington College.

Coming off a 13-2-1 season in 1992, DiBartolo was named the NSCAA's South Atlantic Coach-of-the-Year. He followed with another strong campaign in 1993 as the Gulls posted 11 wins and earned their first postseason bid since 1985. Salisbury finished as the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) South Region runnerup. In 1994, DiBartolo won his first CAC Coach-of-the-Year award as the Sea Gulls finished first in the conference regular season with a 6-0-1 mark and finished 12-3-3 overall.

Honors and awards are nothing new for the well-respected Sea Gull mentor. DiBartolo was recognized as the Maryland Small College Coach of the Year in 1983 and 1984 as the Gulls captured the Maryland State Championship both seasons. He also led Salisbury to the Eastern States Athletic Conference (ESAC) championship in 1987 and 1992, and was recognized as the ESAC's Coach-of-the-Year in 1992.

A 1975 graduate of Frostburg State University, where he played for four seasons and captained the team as a senior, DiBartolo worked two years as the assistant coach there before moving to the Eastern Shore. He served as a Sea Gull assistant for three seasons before taking over as head coach in 1982. During his tenure, DiBartolo has served as chair of the ECAC's Division III South Tournament selection committee and has also served as a member of the NCAA Division III Tournament selection committee. He is currently chair of the NSCAA's Men's Senior College Coach-of-the Year committee.

In addition to his soccer duties, DiBartolo teaches in Salisbury's Franklin P. Perdue School of Business, where he also serves as the associate dean. DiBartolo earned his D.B.A. from The George Washington University in 1995. He and his wife, Mary, have two children, Dominic and Anthony, and reside in Salisbury.

Gulls Return to CAC Championship Game in 2001

LaRocque Named as All-American

Salisbury University added another chapter of success to its soccer tradition in 2001 by returning to the Capital Athletic Conference's championship game and finishing with a 15-3-1 final record. The Sea Gulls and Mary Washington battled to a 1-1 tie through four overtimes in the CAC final, before MWC claimed the title by winning the penalty kick shootout. Despite the loss, the Sea Gulls finished with their 10th straight winning season, which included a number of outstanding performances and personal achievements.

Senior back Darren LaRocque, a four-year starter and anchor of the defense, earned second team all-America honors. LaRocque, who helped the Gulls record 11 shutouts and a 0.66 goals against average in 2001, becomes the fifth Sea Gull to achieve the national award. LaRocque and junior midfielder Dan Meehan were also both named to the Adidias/NSCAA All-South Region first team.

In addition, LaRocque and Meehan were two of six players named to the 2001 all-Capital Athletic Conference team. LaRocque and Meehan were joined on the 11-player first team by junior forward Matt Bowman and junior back Mike Steinen. Junior forward CR Krauss and senior midfielder Adam Young were recognized on the second team.

The all-conference honor also capped a record-setting individual season for Bowman, who broke a 29-year old Salisbury scoring mark by registering 18 goals in 2001. Bowman also established a new Salisbury season record with 42 total points. In addition to his all-CAC status, Bowman was also named to the Verizon/CoSIDA District II Academic All-America team.

The Sea Gulls were also featured high in the final national statistics for the 2001 season. After finishing second in the nation in scoring average in 2000, the Gulls dipped to eighth in the nation in 2001 with an offense that averaged 3.74 goals per game. Defensively, SU placed 13th in Division III with a 0.58 shutout percentage, and 18th in total defense with a goals against average of 0.66.

Bowman Named First Team Academic All-American

Record-Setting Forward Boasts Perfect 4.0 Grade-Point Average

Forward Matt Bowman (pictured on the front cover) capped an outstanding junior season by being named as one of 11 players nationwide to the Verizon Academic All-America Soccer first team, as selected by CoSIDA (College Sports Information Directors of America). He was one of just three juniors named to the first team, and one of just two student-athletes with a perfect 4.0 cumulative grade-point average. He majors in geography.

The prestigious award capped an outstanding year for Bowman, who broke a 29-year old team scoring record with 18 goals and 42 total points in 2001. Bowman finished second in the Capital Athletic Conference in scoring while also earning first team all-CAC honors. He had been recognized earlier as a Verizon Academic All-America All-District selectee, thus becoming eligible for the national award.

"Matt is the ideal student-athlete," said Head Coach Gerry DiBartolo. "He is a student at a very challenging academic institution and a plays in a very competitive athletic program, and is able to excel in both areas. That is a testament to his drive, his intelligence and his work ethic. What more can you ask for from a student-athlete?"

In addition to his single-season scoring records, Bowman completed his junior season ranking third in Salisbury history with 35 career goals and fifth all-time with 80 career points.

Why the Elmer Lord Tournament?

The tournament is named in honor of Elmer Lord, who was one of the most dedicated supporters of the Salisbury University soccer program through the years. SU Head Soccer Coach Gerry DiBartolo remembers Lord's presence at the games as far back as the 1970s. Through the years, Lord never missed a home game, providing vocal support during the contests and developing nicknames for each of the players. Due to the team's appreciation of Lord's support, he was invited to all team dinners, banquets and award ceremonies.

Elmer Lord passed away during the winter of 1999. The last few years before his death, he awarded one player each year with the Alumni Award, a trophy that he personally provided. To honor his memory, former players Dean Wampler and Sandor Fodor have been instrumental in organizing and raising support for the tournament which now bears his name.

SU's Athletics Philosophy

Salisbury University, a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's (NCAA) Division III, offers 19 intercollegiate sports for men and women. In addition to NCAA membership, SU competes as a member of the Capital Athletic Conference (CAC) and the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC).

As a member of the NCAA's Division III, Salisbury places the highest priority on the overall quality of the educational experience. In doing so, it seeks to strengthen the integration of objectives and programs in athletics with academic and developmental objectives, and to assure the integration of athletes with other students.

SU places special importance on the impact of athletics on the participants, with emphasis on the internal constituency (students, alumni and special friends) rather than on the general public and its entertainment needs.

The SU athletics program is further characterized by the following principles:

- Participants receive the same treatment as other students. They have no unique privileges in admission, academic advising, course selection, grading, living accommodations or financial aid. Similarly, athletes are not denied rights and opportunities that would be available to them as non-athletes.
- Sports for men and women are given equal emphasis and the desired quality of competition is similar in all sports.
- Students are supported in their efforts to reach high levels of performance by providing them with adequate facilities, competent coaching and appropriate competitive opportunities with students from similar institutions.
- SU strives to make the student-athlete's participation in intercollegiate athletics an enriching experience, and holds genuine concern for each participant's welfare. The intercollegiate program's foremost goal at all times is to supplement and enrich the first priority of the University, which is academic accomplishment.
